Haag, Brown Get Major Roles in Jonson Comedy

Dick Haag, Missoula, and Bo Brown, St. Ignace, will star in the Montana Masquer production of "Volpone" April 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

The cast for this Ben Jonson comedy was announced yesterday by Abe Wollock, director. Rehearsals began last night in the Simpkins hall little theater.

Other members of the cast include Gene Huchala, Libby, as Corvino; Walter Smith, Evanston, Ill., as Corbaccio; Harry Connick, Mt. View, Calif., as Voltore; Louis Kiefer, Deer Lodge, as Leone; and John Badgely, Missoula, as the Captain.

Gayle Davidson, Polson, and June McLeod, Ekalaka, have been cast as Canina and Columba, the two women in the show.

Jack Sweet, Missoula, and Jim Ward, Panama City, Panama, will take the parts of the first and second judge. John Pecarich and Clem Ward, Missoula, will act as grooms in the play and Mike Thompson, Ennis, and J. C. Stevens, Great Falls, play two Venetian soldiers.

The production will be staged in the Simpkins hall little theater. Mr. Wollock explained that this plan follows along with the recent Masquer transfer from the Student Union theater to a temporary home of their own.

Haag makes his third appearance under the Masquer banner as Mosca, Volpone's clever servant. Dick has done work for the Masquers in "All My Sons," and "Winterset." Mosca is his first comedy role.

Bo Brown, playing the part of Volpone, takes his eighth major part in a university production. He was last seen as Mio in "Winterset."

"Volpone," a vigorous Elizabethian comedy, has been adapted for the modern stage," Mr. Wollock said. "The general tone of the production will lend itself to the extravagances of the period—the periwigs and the pantaloons."

The cast includes several newcomers. Smith, Connick, Kiefer, Badgely, and Miss McLeod will all make their first appearances behind Masquer footlights in "Volpone."

Cope, Graham to Co-Captain 1949-50 Grizzly Cage Team

Bob Cope and Jim Graham were elected basketball co-captains for the 1949-50 season yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Grizzly cage team.

Both are juniors and will win their third letters this year. Cope, who is a physical education major, holds five all-time university scoring records and shares a sixth with brother Graham.

Unofficially, Cope broke his average points per game record by tossing in 423 points in 25 games this season for a 16.9 average. Last year he scored 509 points, the highest season total ever recorded by a Grizzly, in 32 games. Cope's individual free throw record is 139, and his 40 points against Gonzaga last year set a university home floor record and individual game mark. His highest game this year was 33 against Idaho State college.

Graham jointly holds the university free throw record with Cope. Both scored 14 free throws in games last year. Graham started this season with a blazing 26 points against highly-touted Washington State. The next week in practice he broke his hand and was out of action for six weeks.

A business administration major, Graham lead Grizzly scorers until midseason last year and finished second to Cope with 336 points.

This year, after sitting out 14 games, he ran up a total of 108 to rank among the highest five Grizzly scorers.

This spring Cope will play with the Grizzly baseball team and Graham will throw a javelin for the trackmen.

Bus Ad Students Sign Up Schedule

All sophomore business administration students are scheduled to register this afternoon, 2 to 4 p.m., in the Copper room of the Student Union.

Sectionizing for all business administration courses and for Math. 25, sections I, II, III, IV, and VI will also be done in the Copper room.

Bus Ad seniors will register Wednesday, 2 to 5 p.m., and juniors, Thursday, 2 to 5 p.m., in the Copper room. Advising will be done only at the scheduled times.

News In Brief

National and Collegiate

Montana State—Cow College frosh published the Froshponent, their annual libel and dirt edition of the Exponent, last week. They raked everybody from the Aggie president and dean of women to the Bobcats and Grizzlies over the coals. But they weren't to be outdone by their older brothers of the Exponent staff who put out a clever but stinging facsimile of the Kaimin as a special treat for fans at the Bobcat-Grizzly game.

Washington—The Hoover commission yesterday termed the new unified national military command "perilously close to the weakest type of department" in the government.

U of Oregon—The Daily Emerald's blast at the fine old Oregon tradition of segregation of men and women at university athletic events drew varied opinion on the campus. Opponents of segregation say it is "unnatural," while its backers base their arguments on tradition.

Denver—After masquerading as a man for 20 years, 36-year-old Billie Morrison had her secret revealed by her 19-year-old daughter, Judy. Billie switched to the masculine garb 20 years ago in order to get away from her husband. The one time she tried to go back to being a woman she found that "I was mauled too much by other men."

BEAR PAWS MEET TONIGHT

Nancy Calvert Reigns as SX Sweetheart

Nancy Calvert, Great Falls, was crowned Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at the annual ball Saturday night in the Florentine gardens of the Hotel Florence.

Miss Calvert was given a crown of white roses, a sweetheart trophy, and a jeweled Sigma Chi sweetheart pin. She will preside over all the functions of the Sigma Chis throughout the coming year.

The four runners-up, who were the attendants, are Carolyn Gillett, Los Angeles, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jane Hannah, Kalispell, Sigma Kappa; Janice Ludwig, Kalispell, North hall; and Peggy Trower, Livingston, Delta Gamma. The five finalists were chosen by the fraternity from 20 candidates entered by all sororities and living groups.

Guests of honor were Gayle Davidson, Sweetheart of 1948, Marian McAllister, Sweetheart of 1946, President and Mrs. James A. McCain, Dean and Mrs. C. W. Leaphart, Dean and Mrs. H. J. Wunderlich, Dr. Maurine Clow, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Galen, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dussault, and Mrs. J. C. Murphy.

Debate Team Takes Second In Tourney

A two-man debate team composed of Dean Jellison, Kalispell, and Frank Gonzalez, Helena, captured second place in the Northwest Invitational Debate tourney at Linfield college, McMinnville, Ore., over the week end. The Montana team, winning six of eight debates, was edged out by the College of Puget Sound, according to Prof. Ralph Y. McGinnis, debate coach.

Schools defeated by MSU were Willamette, Utah State, Oregon State, University of Washington, Pacific university, and Pacific Lutheran. The two Montana students split with the University of Utah and dropped a match to Washington State college.

"We were attempting to qualify for the national tournament at West Point. Three teams from the Northwest are to be chosen and on the basis of our overall record for the season the West Point committee is giving us much consideration," said McGinnis.

The MSU squad won the tournament at Idaho in January and had two undefeated teams in the meet at Denver two weeks ago.

Grizzlies Uncrown 'Cats; End Season

By DWAIN HANSON

The mood of the Grizzlies in their locker room at the State college gym after the game Friday night was a far cry from that of a year ago when they lost a heart-breaker in the last two minutes. Friday night the Grizzlies won their first post-war mythical state intercollegiate championship by taking their third straight from the Cats, 58 to 56, before a full house.

Everyone was all smiles as Coach Jiggs Dahlberg commented, "Well, we can relax tomorrow night—we'll really go then." Capt. Lou Rocheleau, playing the last games of his college career, nodded assent and added, "In the rack at 11 tonight, fellas."

Final Tilt Was Grudge Game

The championship already decided, Saturday night's game, the season finale for both schools, was merely another in the long series of grudge battles between the two teams. Both squads were everything but relaxed as the Bobcats' Jumpin' Joe Kelly put on a one-man scoring show. Rocheleau and a band of Grizzly substitutes tried to hold the fort after seven mates fouled out.

The Grizzlies were introduced at a convo Friday morning, received well-mannered treatment from the fans, and were served cokes after both games by the Fungs. MSC Coach Brick Breeden told the student body his players were treated well in Missoula and asked the students to extend the same courtesy to the Grizzlies. The farmers responded by giving ovations to Grizzlies who fouled out. Only Ray Bauer, who played a rugged defensive game, was greeted with the Bronx cheer.

Why Grizzlies Won

The Montana victory Friday night can be attributed to five factors:

(1) Montana played conservative ball the second half, did not allow the Cats to shoot, and wound a defensive cocoon about the enemy offense.

(2) Rocheleau held Kelly to three points the second half after the Cat had thrown in five fast buckets in a first-half rally.

(3) Bob Cope cut loose after his nemesis, Bill Peden, fouled out early in the second half.

(4) Gordon Stewart, garrulous Grizzly grinner, conducted a one-man Montana cheering section from the stands as he attempted to drown out 1,800 State college supporters.

(5) The Grizzlies hit 10 of 18 shots the second half and converted 10 of 14 fouls while the Cats were going ice cold.

Teams Try Too Hard

Both teams tried too hard the first half Friday night. As the game opened, State's Joe Mathias and Rocheleau missed push shots before Dick Carstensen managed to dribble in for a layup. For the next nine minutes the score changed hands several times.

Only Jim Graham was able to hit the next 10 minutes of the first half, and after Kelly and Peden contributed 16 points, the Grizzlies were on the tail end of a 28-37 halftime score.

"We'll Win," Says Jiggs

During the halftime rest period, Coach Dahlberg told his men they were "going up and win." They did just that. The Grizzlies went upstairs and proceeded to pour in 20 points in 12 minutes while the Cats scored only seven. Rocheleau, Cope, and Graham hit from every place on the floor.

Montana's defense functioned the best of the season and put the Bobcat's Kelly completely off form. At one time Kelly missed the backboard on a push shot try.

The score was knotted, 42-all, 51-all, and 56-all the last 10 minutes of the second half. With minutes left Kelly fouled Cope, who calmly walked to the free-throw line and dropped the game-winning points. In the last five seconds, Cope threw the ball into the arms of the Cats' Les Curry, who raced to his basket for a lay-up, but missed.

Fouls Lose Second Game

Rocheleau's 26 points kept the Grizzlies in contention Saturday night. With John Eaheart, Tom Selstad, and Cope out on fouls after the first four minutes of the second half, Rocheleau and Dan Marinkovich mixed it up with a Cat team that still had its offensive threats, Kelly and Curry, in the game.

Kelly, playing a style of ball reminiscent of his escapades at Butte Central high school, just couldn't miss his shots and faked beautifully. While taking a pivot, he faked Montana's Carstensen off the floor.

Jim Graham converted six of eight foul shots and John Eaheart swished four straight baskets to

Uncle Doesn't Live Here Any More

By FLOYD LARSON

It's kinda funny that you should ask about Uncle. You see, he has been ailing and is back east in one of those psychiatric hospitals. Well, sir, it happened just like this.

When Uncle was a pup (Grandpa always called him "the pup"), Grandma (she was an O'Kelly from Butte, you know) would keep Uncle in line by telling him that the "special interests" would get him if he didn't watch out.

Grandma didn't put much stock in these new-fangled ideas about raising kids and I reckon she over-stepped the traces a little in Uncle's case. At least that's what the docs figure anyway.

You see, Uncle developed one of those mental blocks that kept him from recognizing the power of the "special interests" in Montana. All this talk about the state being run by men who have sold their souls for 20 pieces of copper isn't anymore real to him than the Arabian Nights.

We really didn't start thinking of Uncle as being "different" until last November, when he, as my kid brother put it, "flipped his cookie." I guess all of us were partly responsible because we called all those campaign promises a lot of baloney and said it didn't make any difference who won, the state would still be run from the sixth floor of the Hennessey building in Butte.

Anyway he really got violent and you shoulda heard what he called us, "Communists, radicals," and lots of other names that we're glad the women weren't around to hear.

Grandpa called in old Doc Smith and between the two of them they got him calmed down. After that politics were taboo around Uncle.

Uncle had voted for Hoover, Landon, Wilkie, and Dewey in '44. This time he got onery and voted for Truman, which didn't help matters any because when Truman won, Uncle thought he was right on everything and sure rubbed it in on the rest of us who sported Dewey buttons. We took that all right, but when he thought that he was right about the "special interests" being non-existent too, that was too much.

We bided our time and just last week we got back at him. (Of course we're all sorry about it now.) We showed him the paper where the state legislature killed in committee an increase in taxes on electricity and killed the proposed severance tax on minerals, oil, and lumber. Then we pointed out the increased cigarette and gasoline taxes that the committee approved.

We were just joking, of course, but I guess it was the straw that broke the camel's back, so to speak. Darned if he didn't see where the "special interests" might have had something to do with it and . . . well, it was just telling him that there was no God. His idealism went to pieces and so did he.

Well, it's costing him money to stay in that sanitarium and let those psychiatrists straighten him out.

Grandma writes that the docs figure they can cure him but won't guarantee anything if he comes back to the state. He has a persecution complex or something.

Got time for another beer?

keep Montana on the Cats' heels the first half. Montana tied the count 27-all with five minutes to go, then trailed from one to three points the rest of the game.

Rocheleau Not Enough

The Cats ahead, 81 to 77 with a minute to go, Rocheleau hit a one-hander, but Curry countered with a free throw. Rocheleau pushed a rebound through, then fouled out, and the Cats froze the ball the final 30 seconds. The Grizzlies picked up six of their 47 fouls in the last seven seconds while making desperate attempts to wrest the ball from the Cats.

Tom Selstad, in his last game as a Grizzly, played his usual floor game. Added to his performance and evident for the first time, were poise and confidence. In addition to Rocheleau and Selstad, John Holding, who started at guard, and Mike Dudik, completed their eligibility.

Characteristic of all four games, Referee Johnny Good called the majority of the plays while his cohort, John Dixon, stood by. In the first half Saturday night, Good called 14 of Montana's fouls, and 11 of 16 against the Cats.

TD's To Meet North Hall In Finals

Tri Delt and North hall, winners of the semi-final matches, will battle for first place in the women's elimination basketball tournament tomorrow at 4 in the women's gymnasium.

In the semi-final match last Wednesday, North hall won from Alpha Phi, 13 to 11, with Rita Slowey, Geraldine, making 10 of the winners' points. Garene Weber, Great Falls, was high for Alpha Phi with five points.

In the other semi-final match, Tri Delt was pressed to down New hall, 30 to 27, with Donna Harlan, Columbus, making 17 points for the losers. D. J. Working, Wilsall, and Peggy McDonald, Philipsburg, each made 12 points for the winners.

The consolation bracket was played Saturday morning. Alpha Phi won a slow scoring game from Kappa, 13 to 10. Joyce Carstensen, Helena, with five for Kappa, and Gladys Ferguson, Great Falls, with eight for Alpha Phi paced their teams.

Lilia Cleveland, Hamilton, set a new tournament record with 28 points as she led the Independents to victory over the Delta Gammias, 33 to 15. Tex Hendrickson, Houston, Tex., was pacesetter for Delta Gamma with seven points.

New hall took an easy win from Sigma Kappa, 43 to 16, with Donna Harlan, Columbus, making 25 points for the winners. Normamae Milkwick made eight points for the losers.

Theta won readily from Alpha Chi, 33 to 12. Marge Hunter, Libby, scored 14 points for Theta while June Smith, Wallace, Ida., made 11 for Alpha Chi.

Madrigal Singers To Perform in SU This Afternoon

A newly created vocal ensemble, the University Madrigal Singers, will make their first public appearance at this afternoon's student recital in Main hall auditorium at 3 o'clock. The 16 members of the group were selected by George Perkins, university choral director. They are:

Sopranos: Donna Buls and Colleen Haag, both of Missoula; Gayle Davidson, Polson; Bonnie Hayton, Kalispell; and Patsy Moore, Bozeman.

Altos: Janet Blessing and Mary Jo Crumbaker, both of Billings; Janet Curry, Dillon; Norma Hunter, Lewistown; and Ann Stone, Missoula.

Tenor parts will be sung by George Lewis, Missoula, and Erwin Overby, Somers. Basses are James Calliah, Neil Dahlstrom, and Lane Justus, all of Missoula; and Glen Patton, Victor.

The group will sing a number of selections written for small voice groups in England and Italy during the 16th and early 17th centuries. These selections, known as "madrigals," are among the most interesting and delightful compositions in all vocal literature, according to Mr. Perkins.

Red Cross Quota Is $1,000 For Campus

The campus Red Cross unit opened a 10-day drive today to raise $1,000 as its part of the national quota of $60 million.

June Canavan, Great Falls, and Bob Zibell, Linton, N. D., are co-chairmen of the drive on the campus. They are in charge of raising money from the living groups. Dr. Harold Tascher, associate professor of social administration, is in charge of the faculty committee.

The $1,000 quota includes donations from students, faculty, and the maintenance department. Drive leaders said they would concentrate mainly on selling one-dollar Red Cross memberships.

Functional Unit Drive

The drive will be conducted through Red Cross representatives in living groups and through representatives in the various departments and offices of the University. Dr. Tascher calls this collecting procedure the "functional unit method," and says it guarantees full coverage and direct responsibility. He believes it will be more successful than last year's method of assigning one person to each building on the campus.

University Benefits

Drive leaders pointed out that nearly $1,100 was collected on the campus last year, and that the Red Cross put $4,000 back into the University, 80 per cent of which went to veterans and their families.

The Red Cross distributed funds to seven principal causes, the chairman explained:

Aid in disaster, blood banks, serving the armed forces, serving veterans and their families, pro-

Ski Queen, Kelly Take Firsts, SAE's, AP's Cop Team Cups In All-School Ski Tournament

Gloria Swanson, Potomac, MSU's candidate for "Queen of the Nationals," proved Saturday she can handle herself on the hickories when she took first in the women's Class A combined downhill and slalom race in the Ski club's second annual all-school tournament at Diamond mountain.

Tom Kelly, Butte, won first place in the men's Class A combined, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Phi won the team cups. The SAEs now have two legs of the three necessary to keep the Ski club's traveling men's trophy. The Alpha Phis took the Ski club's women's trophy from the Thetas and won the WAA's yearly trophy in addition.

The SAE team included Bob Hawkins, Glenn Wallace, Ed Shelton, and George Remington. Alpha Phi was represented on the slopes by Gladys Ferguson, Shirley McKown, and Shirley Cunningham. Kelly's combined time for one downhill and two slalom heats was 149.8 seconds. Miss Swanson, who will represent the University at the national downhill and slalom tournament in Whitefish this week end where she will compete against queens from other Montana and Wyoming clubs, ran one heat each of slalom and downhill in 99 seconds.

Sigma Nu placed second, Sigma Chi third, Phi Deltas fourth, and Independents fifth in the men's team competition. Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Sigma Kappa trailed the Alpha Phis in the women's team race. Last year's women's champions, Kappa Alpha Theta, did not enter a team in Saturday's meet.

Third place winners were Bob Hawkins, men's Class A; Tom Ford, men's Class B; Bob Henry, men's Class C; Ann Evans, women's Class A; Trudi Foster, women's Class B; Laura Bergh, women's Class C.

Medals will be awarded by the Ski club to first, second, and third place winners, in each classification.

Both slalom and downhill races were run over icy and bumpy courses which resulted in fast racing, frequent falls, and close competition.

PDT Pledges Lead Bowling

The Phi Deltas, by winning three from the Theta Chis Saturday, took over the lead in the pledge bowling league. A game between the ATO's and the SN's was postponed and will be played next Sunday.

Although the scores were low, Saturday proved to be a white wash day for the freshmen bowlers. The SAE's took three from the PSK, the SPE's three from SX, and PDT three from the TX's.

Don Stanaway, PDT, was the hottest man on the alleys, with a high series of 515, but shared high game honors with George Scott, SAE, both rolling 195s.

Grizzly Splashers Split Week-End Swimming Meets

The Grizzly swimming squad came out even-even in last week end's two northern division Pacific Coast conference meets. They dumped the University of Idaho Friday afternoon, by a closely fought 53-31 score. But Saturday's fracas with the Washington State Cougars proved uneventful to the tune of a 70-14 loss. In these two meets, MSU felt its second win and first loss of the season, respectively.

John Harasymczuk was the sea work horse of the Grizzly team against Idaho. His first places in the 220- and 400-yard free style events netted MSU 10 points. With but one exception, times and results in the Pullman meet were superior to any this season. In that one exception, Warsinske had turned in a 2:48.5 for the Grizzlies against Idaho in the 200-yard breast stroke event. Yet he placed second in the same event the following day behind a winning time of 2:50.3. The discrepancy is due to a strained muscle.

MSU's Sawhill placed second in diving and third in the 200-yard breast stroke in the Washington meet, the best individual effort of the day for the Grizzlies.

Sigs, SPEs In Opener Tonight

Sigma Chi and Sig Ep open the intramural sports tonight in a battle for fifth place in B league. Jumbo hall winds up its season against Wesley in the second game and South hall takes on Row houses in an important game in A league.

A South hall win over Row houses and a Sigma Nu win over the unbeaten Phi Sigs Wednesday night would throw first place in A league into a three-way tie. The only probable change in B league standings is the Sigma Chi-Sig Ep game tonight.

In the first game Jumbo hall beat Sig Ep, 68 to 40. Swanson and C. Scott hit 16 and 15 for Jumbo. Ross hit 11 for the losers. Jumbo, with one game left, has a cinch for third place in B league.

Walterskirchen of Sigma Nu scored 25 points for a new scoring record against the Forestry team Thursday night. Sigma Nu won, 63 to 31. Sykes, Theta Chi, previously held the record at 23 which he wrested from Marinovich, Ski club, and Gunlikson, SAE, at 22.

Cubs Dump Kittens Twice; Even Series

Friday and Saturday night, the Cubs took two tight games from the MSC Bobkittens and evened up the traditional four-game series with each squad winning two at home.

Bob Hasquet's rebound shot in the dying minutes of Saturday night's overtime tilt, gave the Cubs a 71-70 margin over the Kittens. The Cubs led off with four buckets before the Kittens could make one counter. Joe McKethen, Kitten forward, dropped in the first MSC score for the evening. At the half, the Cubs had a substantial 42-30 edge over the Kittens.

In the second half, the Kittens found the range as the brilliant shooting of Bob Saunders sparked the squad into the ball game. With two minutes to go, McKethen swooped in and sank the tying bucket. Paul Wold, Cub guard, and Saunders each tallied for the two squads and caused a 68-68 tie resulting in the overtime.

Hasquet's effective shooting netted 32 points for the Cubs, while Saunders dropped in 27 for the Kittens.

Friday night, the Cubs kept a narrow edge on the Kittens up to the final whistle and came out on the top end of a 65-63 score. Hasquet led the Cubs with 22 markers. He was closely followed by his running mate, Joe Luckman, who garnered 21 for the Cubs. Bob Miller led the Kittens with 14 points.

Earlier in the season, the Cubs dropped two games to the Kittens in Bozeman. Saturday night's victory gave the frosh their fourteenth win of the season.

Gripe Board To Meet

Mark Dwire, senior class president, said today that members of the student "gripe" board will meet in the Student Union lounge tomorrow evening at 7:30.

The board, composed of the president and vice president from each class, strives for a smoother relationship between students and faculty.

"Any gripes on student-faculty relationships or any matters concerning university betterment will receive the consideration of the board," said Dwire.

Dwire emphasized that the meeting is open to all students and added that faculty members are also welcome if they care to attend.

AWS to Elect Wheels Tomorrow

University women go to Student Union polls Wednesday to elect next year's AWS officers, according to Dorothy Jean Working, Wilsall, retiring president.

Candidates approved in recent AWS primaries are Phylliss Johnson, Hall; and Gretchen Rasmussen, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, for president; vice president, Donna Burr, Kalispell, and Barbara Hartin, Spokane. Secretary candidates are Edna Geary, Missoula, and Shirley McKown, Seattle. Pat Hennessey, Conrad, and Beverly Burgess, Missoula, are candidates for treasurer.

Polls will be open from 9 until 5 Wednesday on the first floor of the Union. All university women are qualified to vote in the AWS election, Miss Working said.
